Keynote

Lunchmeat & Life Lessons: Sharing a Butcher's Wisdom

Mary B. Lucas

Mary offers advice from the smartest man she ever knew—her father. A butcher by trade, he was the greatest coach she ever encountered. Using real world examples and the power of storytelling, Mary shares what she learned from her father and her career in the people business. This presentation will help you learn how to inspire and bring out the best in yourself and others by creating meaningful connections in your workplace, networks and personal life.

Mary is an author, speaker and people connector. Her book, Lunchmeat & Life Lessons, is a motivational memoir and tribute to her father on how to bring out the best in yourself and others. Her dad founded Bichelmeyer Meats in Kansas City, Kansas in 1946.
